Town Council Meeting

Reports of Public Works Committee and Special Committee Received

Following is a record of the proceedings of the Council of the Town of Wainwright at its regular meeting in the Council Chamber on Tuesday, the 20th day of November A.D. 1934.

The members of Council present at this meeting were Mayor Foster and Councillors Link, Courten, McCann, Welch and Billing.

The recorded proceedings of Council at its regular meeting of November 6th, 1934 were read and, on motion, were adopted and confirmed as written.

A communication was received from the Solder Settlement of Canada, relative to sub. at taxes for 1932 on that part of Section 2 in Township 45 and Range 7 West of the 4th M., occupied by Mrs. Deane, and, on motion, the Secretary-Treasurer was authorized to communicate with the Municipal District of Jasper River, informing them that the taxes for 1932 on the land above mentioned for the year 1932.

A further report on Harry Burrows was received from Dr. Anderson, Superintendent of the Royal Alexandra Hospital, and, on motion, the Secretary-Treasurer was instructed to acknowledge the report and to request the discharge of the patient from the hospital as soon as possible.

Mrs. Edna L. Link made written application to purchase Lot 16 in Block 7 Plan 6445 V at the price paid by her for adjoining lots and, on motion, it was unanimously resolved that the said lot 16 in block 7 be sold to Mrs. Link for the sum of $35.00 and the Mayor and Secretary-Treasurer be authorized to issue transfer of this lot to Mrs. Link on payment of the price mentioned.

A communication, addressed to Council by the N. Bawit Grain Company, Limited, was read in Council by Mr. James Robinson, local agent of that company, advising Council that the company occupying the dwelling owned by the company, has not been paying rental for some time and requesting Council to afford some measure of relief by paying rental of at least $4.00 per month from the date of default by the tenant.

On motion, it was unanimously resolved that Council do not entertain the proposal submitted by the N. Bawit Grain Company, Limited.

On motion, it was unanimously resolved that the head of the Police department be advised to investigate the leaving of meals after Council had ordered meals to be given and that report be given in writing to Council.

The Public Works Committee reported as follows:

At the second regular meeting in October, the utility men were called to the committee with a view of completing certain work before the arrival of winter. In the month which has intervened, he was notified for a number of days through an accident to his foot but nevertheless has been able to complete the work which has been assigned to him. A considerable length of old wooden walk which was beyond repair and which had become a menace to pedestrians was taken up and replaced by gravel and cinders. This filling when trodden down will make a safe walk although not so attractive as a wooden walk in good repair. He was also occupied in superintending and checking the gravel being hauled upon the streets and in leveling this gravel when packed.

He reports that 62 yards were hauled by Donald Goodrich and 114 yards hauled by T. Benson. This gravel has been spread on Main Street North and on Third, Fourth and Sixth Avenues East. Some complaints have been heard as to the quality of this gravel but upon investigation we are of opinion that the quality is quite as good as we can expect to get from pit run gravel in any pit within a reasonable hauling distance and are convinced that this gravel will make a good road surface when properly packed.

It was the desire and the intention of this committee at the beginning of the year to make a considerable improvement in the walks, streets or our town but expenditures on other ways has interfered to a considerable extent with this program.

In this connection, we may mention the pipe line on Third Avenue. In the summer of 1934 this line needed repairs and the matter was called to the attention of Council. Some effort was made and a considerable amount of money was expended on labor and material but nothing of a permanent nature was accomplished.

On the subject of the utility men's wages, the committee has been advised of the result of his expenditure although we are of opinion that nothing of a permanent nature resulted.

As this committee has now exceeded its estimate, it is not the intention of the committee to carry out any additional work during the present year beyond carrying out the work imposed upon the committee by the motion passed at the second regular meeting of October last in connection with the hauling of gravel for the taxpayers whose property is under tax recovery proceedings. It will also be necessary that the committee attend to any work of an emergency nature falling within the scope of this committee.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

On motion, the report of the Committee on Public Works was accepted and incorporated in the proceedings of the meeting.

The Committee on Property, Assessment & By Laws submitted the following report:

We, the Property Committee, beg to report on the condition of the Town Hall roof. After thoroughly investigating the report made by the utility man, Mr. H. Renville, we wish to state that, during the installing of the fire bell, the roof has been damaged to such an extent that we think Mr. Goulet should be advised regarding this.

On motion, the report of the Committee on Property, Assessment & By Laws was accepted and incorporated in the proceedings of the meeting.

On motion, the Secretary-Treasurer was authorized to purchase a suction hose for use of the scavenger in pumping cesspools.

On motion, it was unanimously resolved that Council meet as a final court of review on the 11th day of the month of December at 10 o'clock a.m. on Tuesday, the 11th day of December, A.D. 1934.

The special committee appointed at the second regular meeting of August 1934 to study the feasibility of the Town of Wainwright acquiring its own gas, at the expiry of the present franchise, reported as follows:

We wish to submit a report to you covering our investigation relative to the feasibility of the Town acquiring gas utility and our findings are as follows:

There is no doubt at all that this

News About Town

Whoopie! Come to the Card Party and Dance in the Elite Theatre on Monday, November 30th at 8:00 o'clock. This will be the big event of this season.

The Annual Card Party and Dance under the Agricultural Society will be held in the Elite Theatre on Friday, November 30th at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. McDonald is absent on a tour this week at Viking and Hardesty, where she has a large number of permanent engagements.

About fifty of our citizens enjoyed a guessing contest on Saturday afternoon as to the right weight of a calf, put up by Harry Mabey. To say the least it was interesting and quite serious for those entered in contest. We congratulate Sam Alroy on his judgment of weight coming within five pounds of being correct. Such a contest on Main and second reminds one of the old market days.

Mr. O'Callaghan, the manager of the Royal Bank of Canada, here, whose transfer comes through the Head Office in Montreal, will probably have to remain here a while to look after some business in connection with the closing of the office.

Utility has paid handsome dividends to its owners by day, as proven by Wainwright gas company's financial statements, which we have on file, and there is also no doubt that it could be made to produce the same results for the Town. Our opinion is that it would be greatly to the town's interests if the utility could be taken over by and for the town in July, 1935, if it were possible to do so, but we believe that it is not possible due to the complicated and contradictory nature of the Utility Board's Order No. 1036, issued on July 24, 1934, at the time the revision in rates was made, in which the Board states the franchise as though it expires in December, 1936. Having set the revised rate and spread amortization over a period ensuing on said date, it would not be possible for the town to attempt to upset the Board's order referred to. We are not positively aware as to how the discrepancy occurred, whether by a pure oversight or to the correct termination date (July, 1935) or whether, which is much more likely, this town's representative concurred on behalf of the town in recognizing the life of the franchise as ten years from the date that the Company actually commenced supplying gas to the town and the Board acting in accordance therewith. We believe that if the town pressed for termination of the franchise on the date set out there in, it would succeed, as we are advised that in law the town would be quite within its rights. On the other hand, on an equity basis, we are advised that in such an event the town would probably have to heavily compensate the Wainwright Gas Company for the amortization having been spread over seven years, as out of five years, the 33c rate having been set on the assumption that the franchise had seven years to run.

We recommend, therefore, that the franchise be allowed to continue until December, 1936, in accordance with the Utility Board order No. 5835, and that in entering into this arrangement with the Gas Company the Solicitor be instructed to see that the town's position is in no way prejudiced and that every safeguard be made to ensure that the franchise will positively terminate in December, 1936, and that any thing the Gas Company might do to the detriment by way of development or otherwise would be entirely at its risk and would in no way obligate or prejudice the rights of the town.

On motion, the report of the special committee was accepted and incorporated in the proceedings of the meeting.

On motion, Council was regularly adjourned.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Daugherty and son, John, spent Friday in Edmonton.

Friday morning a hose was connected to a hydrant and a body of water poured into the ground prepared for our open air skating rink. With a continuation of prevailing cold snap, ice will be ready for the skaters in the course of a few days.

Don't loose sleep keeping a wood fire burning at night when you can buy Lump Coal at the Atlas Lumber Yard at $7.00 per ton.

Members of the staff of the R. yal Bank of Canada were notified during the week of transfers to be made when the local branch closes its doors. Miss B. J. Love will go to Lethbridge, Roy McLaughlin to Calgary, and C. M. Hugert to Hanna.

The expressions of regret that this much esteemed staff are leaving our town, are numerous and sincere, and we wish them much luck in their new surroundings.

When Eric Fridrikson was going to lunch last Friday he discovered Frank McLeod's house was on fire, and flames and smoke were coming through the roof. He summoned help and called the fire department which responded promptly and brought the fire under a good start, as Mrs. McLeod was out of town and Frank was at the store, it was soon under control. The fire started off from a gas heater catching in a partition and burning up through the roof. A few barrels of kerosene was destroyed and an ice and water did considerable damage to the interior of the house. Some insurance was carried.

Study Group

Re-Organized

A number of citizens gathered in the Progress Lumber office on Thursday evening last to make plans or a study of local and national problems. Various subjects for study were mentioned by those present, but it was decided to have a future meeting.

During the evening the prevailing idea seemed to be to term the group a "Study Group." Possibly some organization will be formed at a later meeting.

For some time Mr. J. W. Johnston has been making an effort to collect sufficient machinery to print a paper. Some time ago he made a visit to points nearby and called at Wainwright in his search. ## THE TENDERFOOT

By GEORGE R. BODNEY

Author of "The Coronado Trail," "The Canyon Trail," etc.

SYNOPSIS

"You've fallen out to a half-acre in plenty of trouble," the lawyer told Gerald Kane. "The Broken Spur has been systematically looting the ranch, and old Joe Carr, your partner, is drinking himself into ruin."

But Kane decided to see what was happening for himself—not as Gerald Kane, half owner of the Hour-Glass Ranch, but as Duro Stone, tenderfoot in a Montgomery Ward wild west outfit.

Dad Kane, desert rat and lurcher promoter for 100 years, is determined to tell Duro and Spite Goldford, owners of the Broken Spur ranch, who had grubstaked him, the discovery of a rich gold mine, and shows samples of the ore. He sees Broken Spur men rustling Hour-Glass cattle and plots against it.

Spite Goldford and Sam Dustin, fearing the old prospector may tell others the things he has seen as to the branding of Carr's cattle, plot to get him to show them the mine and then to kill him.

Gerald Kane, dressed in a colorful cowboy costume, arrives at the Hour-Glass ranch and is hired as a cowboy by Joe Carr. The impersonation of a tenderfoot is successful, and he is accepted as such by the other occupants of the bunkhouse.

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER V.—Continued

"Dustin! That damned crook! I wouldn't let him take care of a three-legged horse that I liked. He's been at the bottom of all our troubles."

"Yeah. I know that but we can't prove it. And that's what counts. Who's this new hand you took on, Joe?"

His hand swept toward the bunkhouse, where Stone stood talking to Lee and Worth, both of whom were laughing.

"Just a new man I picked up to-day. He came in and asked for a job. We got to have a new man and he's got to be cheap, so I hired him. He can ride fence. He's just a crazy fool who says he wants to learn the cattle business. He told me so when I hired him. He said he wanted to learn it from the ground up. We've got right down to the ground now on the Hour-glass," he said grimly. "He's a startin' good. Set him to work in the morning ridin' fence on the west line. Did you see his outfit?"

"Did I? I wish I'd looked like that when I was his age. I'd sure have filled the eye of some good-looking girl. Don't borrow troubles, Joe. It'll come fast enough. Give me a share of that drink."

Chuck poured him a generous half-pint and shuffled the papers on his desk.

"If I had no more cares than that new hand," he growled, "I'd get drunk for a week. He ain't a bad drunker kid. Pity he's such a damned fool. Anybody's a damned fool who tries to make money off cattle unless he's crooked at the start. Duro Stone! That's sure one hell of a name."

a refreshing ingenuously about this new hand that amused her. But why under Heaven should any man take up such a life? If her father, who had been a cattleman for more than fifty years, could not succeed, how could an amateur like this man Stone look for success? She felt vaguely sorry for him.

"How'd you make out in the bunkhouse last night?" she asked. "Sometimes Baines thinks he's a qualified practical joker."

"He put some hand-sprays inside my shirt," said Stone. "But he was right pleasant about 'em 'em out after I rubbed 'em in 'em."

She laughed a little and to her own astonishment found herself flushing warmly under his eyes.

"I wouldn't let my horse eat all those fox-tails," she said in desperation. "They'll make his mouth sore."

"Nice fat job for you," he growled. "Grews wants you."

Crews, meeting him at the kitchen, gave him his orders briefly.

"You'll ride fence on the west line. If any points are down, put 'em up at resting the wire. Know how to do it?"

"Sure. Like fence a hog-pasture. I suppose the line is marked."

"I'll show you on the map . . . Crews led the way to the office but was stopped by Edith. She was in riding dress and she was eating a hasty sandwich.

"If you're sending him"—she nodded at Stone—"to ride fence, I can show him. I'm going out for a ride and I may as well ride that way. Come on . . ."

Stone followed her out to the corral where his pony stood saddled, and Lee brought Edith's horse from the stable. Two minutes later they plodded their way across the East pasture with its two thousand acres toward the West line.

That West line ran for miles straight North over a yellowing grass meadow. There were many breaks in the wire that there had been no man, or too few, to repair and many points were down. From time to time Stone dismounted, whistled, reset his post, stabled his wire and made the ends fast, and Edith watched every move he made.

Mile after mile that they rode was checked off in red letters in the diary of his life. He had seen many women but never one like this. Her eyes were alight with the Wine of the West . . . And there was no wine fermented by mere wind that is like it. . . . Her lips were redly parted and her cheeks were aglow with a light that has never been seen but by those whose eyes are opened by the gods. She gave to every motion of her horse more grace, a perfect poise, across that sunlit mesa under Duro Stone's adoring eyes. He had never believed that such a woman lived west of the Pillars of Hercules. Himself, fairly well read in the classics, he repeated these lines that Marlowe wrote:

"The face that launched a thousand ships
And burned the topless towers of Hium."

Then he turned to her. "Helen . . . Edith . . . He did not care at all about the name. That was quite incidental. But he never got a chance to say what was on his mind."

Far below them, below the slope of the hill, a pool of quiet dark water showed like prune-colored silk under their great outspread wings, and a few cattle stood far off on the slope of the hill.

"Look there . . . Edith pointed to the great sweep of the land before them. "You've been with us only a few hours but you must have heard the trouble that we are having."

He nodded. His gaze seemed to center on his horse's ears but he was always conscious of the golden voice.

"It's just hard luck," she said. "Hard luck and our own mismanagement."

"That's God," he thought. "Here is one person sane enough to realize that Fate doesn't sit up at nights to deal us bad hands. She gives us brains to be used . . . Aloud he said:

"It's a good land but she sure doesn't show much cow-horse."

"Let's eat our sandwiches here," she suggested as their ponies hurried them through the brush toward the water, where the Springs of those troublesome Soda Springs caught the sunlight. She slipped the bit from her horse's mouth and watched him thrust his muzzle deep in the pool. Then she smiled at Stone, who had dismounted on the "off" side and stood awkwardly watching her.

"You're entirely new to range work, aren't you?" She pointed accusingly to his unsaddled pony. "We don't, as a rule, unsaddle at work. Might need the pony quickly. It's just a hint. You understand?"

"Oh, yes, and thank you. I'll need a lot of hints. I thought the horse'd like to rest. It seemed tired . . ."

"For Heaven's sake don't call your horse 'It,'" she flared at him. Then she smiled at him again. There was

Detroit Ladies Desist Through No Fault of Their Own

The financial trails of the world are scattered with the wreckage of investment programmes. In each of them is a poignant personal tragedy. The other day, four old ladies applied for old age pensions from the State of Michigan. Their ages ranged from 74 to 84 years. They are the daughters of one of Detroit's early and wealthy citizens—a man who was so well-to-do and so public-spirited that he donated to the City Hall of Detroit the site on which the City Hall now stands. The property this family once owned is to-day valued at $3,000,000, but the four daughters are practically penniless.

Here is presented the perfect opportunity to draw the moral of the value of thrift and investment. But when one looks into the circumstances one finds that the moral is sheer irony applied to this case. One of the daughters told newspaper reporters the other day:

"I don't believe we are to blame because we are destitute at our age. Now take my own case, for example. I was advised to buy bonds and so I bought them, real estate bonds through a Detroit bank. They are worth nothing now. I can't collect a penny."

This happened in Detroit, but the same thing has happened all over Canada. What an argument it is for the strengthening of companies legislation, the better regulation of security selling and the promotion of higher standards of competency and ethics in the investment business.—Financial Post.

THE GOOSE CAME HOME TO DIE

(By JACK MINER)

There is a seven foot fence that Mr. Henry Ford built around my 30-acre bird sanctuary, which takes in our home.

As my home is private property the same as yours, we have the gate open to the public every day except Sundays when the birds are at their best which is from November 15th to December 15th, and from March 15th to April 15th, and yesterday while I was patrolling the north part of the sanctuary, Mrs. Miner saw a Wild Canada Goose came walking in.

It came slowly down the drive and sat or laid down at the grade door of our home.

Three gentlemen were present including Mr. Andrew A. Gawley, the man with the steel hands from Meaford, Ontario, and they saw Mrs. Miner walk out and pick the goose up and try to care for it, but it died about one half hour.

Now there is never any shooting done within one mile of our home, nor was there any shooting done within this distance yesterday, but this goose was freshly shot because the blood was dripping from its wounded side, and it came home and died at our door. We have no idea how far away this bird received its wound but we have proof that a few years ago one was shot over 7 miles away and came home and died beside our house.

Not European French

French-Canadian Habitant is More Like The English

Racial background of the French-Canadian is an admixture of Teutonic, Breton and Celtic blood and in this respect he is more like the Englishman than the Old Country Frenchman. Professor W. M. Whitlow, professor of history at McGill University, stated. The vivacity which was usually associated with the French character was absent from the make-up of the French-Canadian Habitant, the latter being rather a "slow-moving person," Prof. Whitlow declared.

A Strange Custom

One of the oldest races in the world and one of the strangest is the 400-year-old Fallo race held annually at Sienna, Tuscany. Before each race the horses entered are led to the church altar complete in silk and velvet trappings and holy water is sprinkled on their heads by the priest.

According to the latest statistics, every Canadian in 1933 used 15 pounds of soap, or 68 pounds for each family. The total production of all kinds of soap in Canada in 1933 was 159,137,424 pounds, valued at $12,268,376 at factory prices.

Commemoration Medal

To Issue Medal in Connection With 25th Anniversary Of The King's Accession To The Throne

Arrangements have been made for the issue next year by the royal mint of a medal in commemoration of the 25th anniversary of the King's accession to the throne.

The medal will show on the obverse side specially-drawn crowned effigies of their majesties with the inscription in Roman letters MCMXXV (1910-1935). The reverse side will bear a view of Windsor Castle as the principal house of the royal house of Windsor.

The medal will be issued in two sizes. The larger will be 2 1/2 inches in diameter struck in standard silver and available to the public at a cost of a guinea (approximately $5) apiece. The smaller, struck in fine silver, will be 1 1/4 inches in diameter and will be obtainable for half a crown (approximately 60 cents).

Special arrangements for sale of the medal in the Dominions will be announced later.

Most Modern Equipment

France Had Impressive Exhibit At International Air Show

Modern equipment for countering aerial attacks was a feature of the French exhibit at the International Aeronautical show, which opened in Paris recently. France showed her preoccupation with the menace of invasion from the air by an impressive governmental exhibit of the latest advances in anti-aircraft war machinery. Prominence was given long range, rapid-firing cannon and extremely sensitive detectors which can "pick up" the approach of an enemy long before the hostile bomber or dirigible has come into view.

At Marylebone Court it was alleged that a tenant kept a gramophone, a sewing machine, a kettle-drum and a baby. Possibly this is an exaggeration. His may merely have been learning to play the bagpipes.

Little Helps For This Week

"The Lord is thy keeper, the Lord is thy shade upon thy right hand." Psalm 121:5.

"Great peace have they that love Thy law, and nothing shall offend them." Psalm 119:165.

"I rest beneath the Almighty's shade. My grief expires, my troubles cease; Thou, Lord on whom my soul is stayed. Wilt keep me still in perfect peace."

One great sign of the practical recognition of the "divine moment" and of our finding God's habitation in it, is constant calmness and peace of mind. Events and things come with the moment; but God comes with them too. So that if He comes in the sunshine we find it and joy, and if He comes in the storm we know He is King of the storms and our hearts are not troubled. G-d himself, though possessing a heart filled with the tenderest feelings is nevertheless an everlasting tranquility, and when we enter into His holy tabernacle our souls necessarily enter into the Tabernacle of rest.—T. C. Upham.

The 1934 wheat crop of Canada is estimated at 277,304,000 bushels, consisting of 270,242,000 bushels of spring wheat and 7,062,000 bushels of fall wheat. The unreviewed estimate for 1933 was 260,728,000 bushels.

Unemployed Lut Happy

Mr. Henry Stewart, a labourer in the Lymeson scowyard, England, tells his own story of conditions in years of enforced idleness in that country where literally millions of men and women are without work, and almost without hope of ever getting any.

What is happening to them during the long idle hours? Scores of them tell his own story of drifting into bitterness and communism, which is the first step toward atheism.

Some, like the writer, find happiness in Christ, and retain their faith undiminished by the distress of the lean years through which they are passing.

"And All The Gloom And Poverty," he writes "two thoughts saved me from yielding to despair—God lives and God cares."

Read for yourself, Mr. Stewart's own words.

"It is true that few Englishmen have any conception of the terrible, thrilling but pathetic narrative in the tragic industrial conditions of this part of England. I was fairly caught in the maelstrom of industrial upheaval. I thought of the seven years famine in Egypt, but the seven years had gone, and yet another seven years are nearly completed, and the years of plenty have not come.

The battle was now ruthless. I buttoned up my coat around what had now become a slim boyish figure and a long shaven head came over me as I looked at the closed shop yard. Silent as a cemetery, the blocks stood like tombstones among the grass and weeds knee deep. The once powerful cranes reared their gaunt frames skywards, their like like skeletons pointing West as though to emphasize that our jobs and our hopes had "gone West." Only the grace of God kept me close to Him, preventing me from throwing in my lot with some political movement intent on "smashing the industrial system" which made such conditions possible.

At first it was possible to live at running some amateur business of your own. I started as a cobbler rather than remain idle. Things went all right for a time, until the big rubber concern in America flooded Britain with cheap "Wellingtons."

Leather repairs sufficed a tremendous slump, and then as more men were thrown out of employment, they were compelled to mend their own boots, and so my self made job died.

At the employment exchange I met some fine Christian fellows, and talking matters over we realized our Heavenly Father knew the position, and must have a purpose in it, that purpose at that moment meant we were to witness for Him. My friend Charlie Reddy, was with me one day giving tracts to all men who stood waiting for their benefit.

"Read this, please," he asked, "it may do you more good than all you get from the doctor." And I supplied him by quoting: "Man shall not

Mr. McFarland On Wheat Sales

At the annual meeting of Saskatchewan Wheat Pool delegates in Regina, this week, Mr. John I. McFarland spoke encouraging words when he said Canada would play a major role in the world wheat trade this season and might dispose of its large crop very early. It may be hoped that this statement is to be taken literally and that Mr. McFarland intends to seize the opportunity he mentions and follow a vigorous selling policy.

Mr. McFarland as the agent of the Dominion Government holds an unenviable volume of wheat. The average of the estimates of his holdings is something about 200,000 bushels. Control of the sale of this quantity of wheat makes Mr. McFarland much the most important wheat trader in the country, and in wheat trading a dominant position is held in the market. If Canada is to get rid of its surplus wheat in the next six or eight months, it is Mr. McFarland who will do most of the selling.

It ought to be superfluous to argue for an active course to sell Canadian wheat in foreign markets, but, as everyone knows, it is not. The tendency of Canadian wheat marketing policy in the last two seasons has been in the other direction. For a year the Dominion was involved in an international agreement to limit exports, and a great many people actually believed for a time that some benefit could come to Canada from promising not to sell more than so much wheat. That delusion was dispelled when the agreement was found to be unworkable and to mean nothing, so far as Canada was concerned, but giving up business to Argentina.

The Dominion is well rid of its commitments under the wheat agreement but it is still not selling wheat as rapidly as seems possible. Figures on export for the current season and for previous seasons are illuminating. The following table, compiled from several reliable sources, shows in bushels the wheat and flour exports for August to October, inclusive, in three successive seasons:

1934-Canada	50,000,000; Arg.	50,000,000; Australia	25,000,000;
1933-Canada	58,595,000; Arg.	58,595,000; Australia	20,150,000;
1932-Canada	90,955,000; Arg.	90,955,000; Australia	19,250,000;

(a) Approximate estimates by Broomhall.

(b) Dominion bureau of statistics (Oct. 26, 1934) Page 36.

(c) Wheat Situation Board. Research Institute (page 36, issue of Sept. 1934, and page 133, issue of December 1933).

These figures are significant. They show that in the three month period the world bought roughly the same aggregate amount of wheat from the countries listed. But in the first year Canada got 75 per cent of the trade, in the second year 55 per cent, and in the current year 40 per cent. Australia took some of this country's lost business, the chief gainer at Canada's expense. While Argentina's exports increased its exports 40,000,000 bushels in the same time that Canadian exports dropped 41,000,000 bushels. Obviously the reason for the Canadian loss of trade, shown by the figures, is not shrinkage in world demand, but defeat in competition with Argentina. Why has Canada been beaten in competition? The explanation is found in another table of figures:

Liverpool wheat prices (cents per bushel):
Nov. 1, 1934—No. 2 Manitoba	North 81 3/4; Argentinean 67 1/2; Australia 71 1/2.
Nov. 1, 1933—No. 2 Manitoba	North 71 1/2; Argentinean 59 1/2; Australia 67 1/2.
Nov. 1, 1932—No. 2 Manitoba	Northern 58; Argentinean 54; Australian 58 1/2.

Canadian wheat is better than the wheat of Argentina and will always fetch a considerable higher price, but the point to notice in these figures is that the spread between the two levels broadened in two years from four cents to eight cents and one quarter cent. Here is the reason for the fall in Canadian export business. Canada asked a higher price—and did not get it. The policy of putting a relatively high value on Canadian wheat still pays well.

If Mr. McFarland can sell the wheat he holds at the present level, the country will rejoice in his success. But to date this season Canadian exports are a disappointing thought, Mr. McFarland and all other authorities say this season presents a golden chance for selling Canadian wheat. It seems to go without saying that it is better in any business to sell at a lower price than to keep price up and make no sales. Price in itself is not the index to the prosperity of the marketing industry. The index is price multiplied by sales. There is no point in a policy which keeps a good price posted on the blackboard and keeps the wheat at home in storage elevators. Loss of wheat export business is a major calamity to Western Canada. Argentina has beef Australia has wool, but Western Canada has wheat and not much else. This country must sell wheat or go under.

Mr. McFarland says there is a prospect of selling the whole surplus this season. Everyone hopes that he is right, that all the wheat will be sold and that the pegged price of butter will be obtained for every bushel. But the main consideration is to get the wheat sold, so long as Canada sells less wheat than it could, it will be no consolation to say that Canada still has 35 per cent, or some other fraction, of total world trade. It is not per centage of world trade, but volume of sales that is important. Supplying 35 per cent of a world demand of 100,000,000 bushels, Western Canada would go broke disposing of the wheat that he holds is Mr. McFarland's first duty and he ought to sell it as fast as this winter. Holding on speculatively with a view to preventing loss by the Dominion treasury is a losing in the long run, because it is slowly but surely turning over the country's export business to competitors. If a money loss to the treasury is involved in making the sales Mr. McFarland sees ahead, the loss should be taken. The recapture of markets will be well worth the price.

live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth."

OUT OF THE MOUTH OF GOD

The struggle against poverty was bitter indeed. But God did, and in many ways He answered our prayers and met our needs. Every Christmas our primary leader sent me a substantial gift, but one year I was obliged to spend it before the wonderful night came around, and I was still in the condition of the proverbial church mouse. Now I prayed about this. I laid the whole matter before God, and I suppose I ought not to have been surprised when on returning home my wife brought me into the room to see the table literally heaped with good things.

"There were aptitudes to go for my children and sweets and delicacies," "Praise God from whom all blessings flow."

The poor are very kind and generous to one another in times of grave depression, especially the Lord's own people. One time I had found work, and jumping off a car, I bumped into one of my friends, a fine Christian man, who was making a heroic effort to live by selling returning texts with chalky paints by hand. I asked him how he was getting along, and he replied: "One mustn't complain." I felt a strong urge to offer this brother in the Lord my share, and knowing my own work was but temporary and thinking of my own family of six, I came upon a quiet, modest sum. The voice within me said: "Give him twice as much," and when I obeyed, he admitted: "I was just that much short of my rent, and I haven't anything to say, I was just praying about it."

At fortnight before one of my children was born I had an offer of a week's work, but fell ill and could not take it. This was a terrible blow, for it happened just when I was so needing the extra money. Quite unexpectedly, however, I started the following week, and it proved a rush job, which took twenty one shillings overtime. Had I been working the week before I should not have got the job. The hand of God was so obvious that even my children said: "God meant you to have that job, father."

As the month went by I picked up odd jobs in factories, shipyards, and on the road. Some lasted but a day or two and some a few weeks. Every year for the past few years I have had occasional work among the labourers, and I came to know a good number of these men and he came to know me. They urged them to decide for Christ.

The hunger for work and bread is not the only hunger there. There is a hunger for the message of God's salvation. For seventeen years I have known the love of God, and I am more than ever convinced that the Christian life is the only life worth while.

BRITAIN TO SET UP INQUIRY INTO ARMS TRAFFIC

London.—The British government intends to set up an inquiry into the subject of traffic in arms, it was learned authoritatively but unofficially.

The exact form the inquiry will take has not yet been determined, but it is not proposed any ministers shall be members of the tribunal.

Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, indicated to the House of Commons that an inquiry into the subject along certain lines would be regarded favorably. He did not, however, say the investigation had been decided upon.

Sir John told the house the government would oppose any "fishing inquiry" dealing with rumors concerning conduct of the arms trade but said an inquiry which really studied the proposal of a state monopoly from the viewpoint of national security and the like was "a very different thing."

The foreign secretary outlined the points which the hearing should cover, giving the impression he would favor such an investigation.

Sir John insisted Britain still is strongly in favor of arms control, citing her prompt ratification of the arms traffic convention of 1925 which, he said, "remains ratified as far as Britain is concerned."

Increase French Army

Longer Period Of Compulsory Military Service Is Suggested

Paris.—A longer period of compulsory military service for French citizens to increase the size of the French army as a answer to the new German "challenge" was believed to be imminent in government circles.

Earlier, the finance committee of the chamber of deputies had given the government virtually free rein for military expenditures by approving "all appropriations judged necessary by the government for defence of the country."

Predictions of an increase in the terms of service of conscripts grew out of Premier Pierre Laval's fallure to assure a chamber of deputies delegation that the service period would remain at 18 months. This was taken by the Radical Socialists as confirmation of reports that the conscript term would be lengthened in accordance with the general staff's wishes.

Germany's Planes Swifter

So France Wants Hugs Sun To Build Better Machines

Paris.—Minister of Air, Victor Denain told France that Germany's planes are "swifter and more modern and asked 3,000,000,000 francs (about $200,000,000) to make the French air force superior.

"Since Goering (German Wilhelm Goering, Adolf Hitler's minister of air) came to power, Germany has a military air fleet available and proclaims it," Denain told the chamber air committee.

"This air force is to be feared because it is composed of modern pursuit and bombing planes," he said.

Protesting against "panic mongers" who pretend Germany has thousands of bombers, the air minister estimated that the Reich will have 1,000 to 1,100 planes at the beginning of 1935.

France has more machines, he admitted, but the French models "are less swift and less modern."

Dairy Council Backs Plan

Would Have All Butter Holders Declare Their Stocks

Toronto.—The National Dairy Council meeting here endorsed a plan designed to improve the Canadian butter situation by calling on all butter holders to declare their stocks. Approval of 50 per cent. of the holders will be necessary to put the scheme in effect.

The plan will be directed by a board of five members to serve without salary until May, 1935. The board will be authorized to grant right of export of butter through the holders' agencies or to collect small stocks itself. It may make a levy on any excess of imports for distribution among exporters.

Robert Barber, of Yorkton, Sask., told the council the western butter producer saw no reason why he should be "pauperized," to help Ontario and Quebec cheesemakers.

Opponents Will Be Heard

Poultry Feed Objections To Come Before Marketing Board

Ottawa, Ont.—The Dominion marketing board has announced that the second week of December will be set aside for the hearing of representations of those who are opposed to the poultry scheme sponsored by the three prairie poultry pools.

The board has received many petitions from the west, opposing the schemes and several organizations have written seeking an opportunity to appear before the board. Every opportunity will be given to these organizations. The actual dates for hearings have not yet been fixed, but it is believed that one week will enable all those opposed to the schemes to be heard.

Meanwhile, the board is making little headway with other schemes. The butter proposal advanced by the National Dairy Council is being held in abeyance pending the outcome of a conference to be held this week at Toronto. It is believed that this scheme is rapidly losing favor in official quarters and its chances of being approved by the board are regarded as doubtful.

The livestock scheme proposed by the Saskatchewan Livestock Co-operative is still at the preliminary stage. The board has not yet come to grips with it.

Self Rule For India

Federal System Is Advocated By Select Committee

London.—An all-Indian federation comprised of self-governing units was advocated in the long-awaited report of the select joint parliamentary committee on Indian reform.

The report urges this system be substituted for the present centralized government. Eleven provinces of British India, two of them new, would be linked in the federal system with the native Indian states, which would enter the federation by voluntary act of their rulers.

These recommendations in the main follow the proposals laid down in the governmental white paper of last year for reform of Indian government in the direction of granting self-rule "with safeguards." In other words still reserving control over vital questions of defence, external relations, and the like, to the viceroy and through him the British government, while extending internal self-government to the new legislatures.

New Relief Policy

Ontario Minister Of Welfare Would Place Single Men In Private Homes

Toronto.—Hon. David A. Croft, Ontario minister of welfare and municipal affairs, announced a new relief policy affecting single men. Under this plan municipalities will be encouraged to place single unemployed men in private homes.

"Homes, not hostels—that is what we are aiming at," said the minister in announcing a plan whereby municipal authorities may pay for lodgings in private homes at a rate not exceeding $1 per week and supply food by voucher at the prevailing rate. If such a policy is adopted locally the province will pay its share of the cost, the minister said.

"That is our idea of the first step towards re-establishment of the individual. Let him get away from the barracks-like atmosphere of the hostel and return to a normal domestic existence," Mr. Croft stated.

Drug To Lengthen Life

Claim It Increases Resistance To Disease And Reduces Worry

Cleveland, O.—Human life can be lengthened, at least a little, by use of a drug that is claimed to reduce worry and increase resistance to disease, Dr. Wilder D. Bancroft of Cornell University predicted before the National Academy of Sciences.

He has not tried it on humans yet, but based his predictions on preliminary tests on rabbits and chickens. The drug is sodium rhodanate, used in other experiments by Dr. Bancroft to treat drug addicts.

Dutch Aviators Return

Amsterdam.—K. D. Parmentier and J. J. Moll, Dutch aviators who won the recent handicap air race from London to Melbourne, landed their transport plane here recently to the cheers of 50,000 persons.

Dairy Surplus

Plan To Be Sent To Dairy Organizations To Reduce Over Supply

Toronto.—A plan to reduce dairy surplus, submitted by the producers' board of the National Dairy Council, will be sent to the provincial dairy organizations. It was decided at the closing meeting of the council's convention here.

The resolution adopted empowered a board of producers to levy against the dairy men with the object of building up a fund to be used for the promotion of the industry in domestic and export markets. T. E. Love of Edmonton, and F. O. Colquhoun of Maple Creek, Sask., vice-president of the council, proposed the scheme be forwarded to the provincial bodies.

NO INCREASE IN WHEAT DEMAND IS ANTICIPATED

Budget.—The international wheat commission struck at the nationalistic policies of wheat importing countries in a strongly-worded statement on the world grain situation.

The statement painted a gloomy picture for exporting countries for at least two more years, predicting the annual world demand for exported wheat would remain at 600,000,000 bushels until at least August, 1936.

Concerning the demands of importing countries, the commission said "until there is a fundamental change in the wheat policy of importing countries there is no prospect of a considerable increase in demand for wheat unless yield per acre proved to be of low average."

Owing to the present policy of some important countries of protecting—almost regardless of cost—their wheat growers against foreign competition and a sharp upward trend of unit yields, the commission's statement continued, "there seems to be no good reason for anticipating in the next few years an annual European demand for imported wheat in excess of 450,000,000 bushels."

"As a result of Japan's policy to become self-sufficing in wheat," the statement said, "and of the great expansion of wheat growing in several European countries, it is impossible the annual imports of European countries will in the near future be more than about 150,000,000 bushels."

"The world demand for imported wheat in recent years has declined 20 to 25 per cent. below what was looked upon as normal prior to 1932. "As both the trend of population growth and that of per capita consumption of wheat are declining in many countries, it is clear that any appreciable increase in world demand is largely dependent upon a reversal of the trend of wheat production in importing countries."

The commission also took to task optimists who forecast improvement because of droughts, so that "during August suggestions were made that the effect of widespread drought would be to convert the position of over-production to one of relative scarcity, and that as a result a substantial rise in wheat prices might be anticipated."

FARM CLUBS SECRETARY

Here is a photograph of A. E. MacLaurin, who, as General Secretary of the Canadian Boys' and Girls' Farm Clubs, is largely responsible for the successful results obtained in this junior club work throughout the Dominion. Thirty-two club teams, representing all of the Provinces of the Dominion, competed in several livestock and field crop judging contests at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto.

Urges Building Program

Could Be Handled As Government Policy Says Stevens

Ottawa.—With the declaration that during the next few years Canada "could wisely and economically spend over a billion dollars in housing and commercial construction works," Hon. H. H. Stevens, former minister of trade and commerce, went on record as favoring a great building program for the Dominion.

Characterizing the government's $40,000,000 building program as "a mere drop in the bucket," Mr. Stevens advocated calling a conference of bankers, loan and mortgage companies and insurance companies, with a view to evolving a plan for financing his huge construction program.

"If they fail to act promptly," he added, "then in my opinion the government of Canada ought to take the matter in hand as a government policy."

The former minister and chairman of the mass buying committee was guest speaker at a banquet of the Ottawa junior board of trade.

Vessels Collide In Fog

Four Lose Lives In Accident On Great Lakes

Alpena, Mich.—Four members of the crew of the steamer W. C. Franz were lost in a collision in heavy fog 30 miles south by east of Thunder Bay Island, Lake Huron, between the Franz and the Edward E. Loomis.

A message from the steamer Reis Brothers, standing by, verified by O. K. Falor, operator of a radio station at Rogers City, said the Franz sank and that 14 survivors of its crew had been taken aboard the Loomis, which was proceeding south under its own power, with considerable water in its forward hold.

The Franz had a crew of 18. Radio messages said the Loomis was badly damaged forward in the collision. The Franz had delivered a cargo of wheat at Port Colborne, Ont., and was upbound for another load of grain.

Grasshopper Problem

North Dakota Conference Says Emergency Bill Exists

Fargo, N.D.—The grasshopper problem was characterized as a national rather than a state problem by state entomologists attending the closing session of the second annual hopper conference here.

Experts from several northwest states and Canadian provinces adopted resolutions recommending an annual grasshopper egg survey by the federal government in co-operation with the various states and an adequate appropriation to the bureau of entomology for this purpose.

In other resolutions the group went on record as of the opinion that a grasshopper emergency still exists. Although various speakers said the pest danger had been reduced by poison campaigns and the drought, one resolution said "the grasshopper outlook for 1935 is most serious in North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Michigan."

Out Of The Market

United States Did Not Export Any Wheat Last Week

Washington.—For the first time since the west's fertile prairies were tilted with regularity, the United States last week failed to export a single bushel of wheat.

"The drought and steadily declining exports," was the explanation given by officials, who said they were not surprised at the department of commerce report.

Only a few years ago, 370,000,000 bushels of the grain were sent out of United States in one year, and exports averaged around 150,000,000 annually up to 1929.

Since that time Canada and Argentina have cut more and more into the market once held by the United States.

JAPAN CONTINUES ITS INSISTENCE ON NAVAL PARITY

London.—The outlook for the tripartite naval conversations became gloomier than ever, with a Japanese declaration that in the very likely event of failing to reach an agreement on tonnage limitation of navies, she could not agree to limitation of specific types of vessels and their gunpower.

The war taken to mean that if a tripartite agreement on total naval tonnage is not reached, replacing the Washington treaty which Japan is going to denounce, then Japan is prepared to experiment with vessels she believes peculiarly suited to her needs.

The Japanese indeed made themselves very clear, removing a couple more misconceptions which made it plain the best the British and Americans can hope for, so far as tripartite agreement is concerned, is to salvage as much as they can of the Washington agreement. And there does not seem to be much that can be saved.

First, the Japanese denied the widely-accepted version of their demand for parity with the British and American fleets, to the effect that while insisting on being granted parity she would not actually build up to it. This was a complete misconception, Reuters was told by Ambassador Tsumo Matsudaira.

"The actual position is that Japan, if accorded parity, might not need to build up to it in all categories," he said. "But she has certainly made no statement that she would not."

The other "misconception" the Japanese removed was a report they had declared themselves not averse to having a fleet inferior to the British, so long as the Japanese fleet was equal to the American. The Japanese emphatically declared they want full equality with both the British and the Americans. The inference is that if this is not conceded by treaty, Japan will independently build up to it.

The statement that Japan cannot accept restriction of tonnage of various types of vessels and gunpower in the different classes, if there is no agreement on total tonnages, clearly heralded independent action unless she is granted parity, which is unlikely.

Admiral Yamamoto, naval delegate, was responsible for the statement regarding refusal to accept qualitative restriction.

The clarification of the Japanese position made more understandable the British moves for an agreement with the United States in the hope of getting a multilateral naval pact to which the Japanese would be invited to join later.

TAKE FIRST STEPS TO PAVE WAY FOR DEBATE ON INDIA

London.—By a vote of 224 to 62 the House of Commons passed Premier Ramsay MacDonald's motion, taking away all private members' time during the new session of parliament for discussion of the report of the select committee on India and the subsequent government bill embodying its recommendations.

Prime Minister MacDonald said the India bill would contain 300 clauses and would undoubtedly take up the bulk of the government time. Details on the report itself will be held before Christmas and second reading of the India bill, beginning committee stage, between Christmas and Easter. From Easter to the end of July the bulk of the house's time would be occupied with the bill.

An all-India federation comprised of self-governing units was advocated in the long-awaited report of the select parliamentary committee on Indian reform.

The report urges this system be substituted for the present centralized government. Eleven provinces of British India, two of them new, would be linked in the federal system with the native Indian states, which would enter the federation by voluntary act of their rulers.

These recommendations in the main follow the proposals laid down in the governmental white paper of last year for reform of Indian government in the direction of granting self-rule "with safeguards," in other words still reserving control over vital questions of defence, external relations, and the like, to the viceroy and through him the British government, while extending internal self-government to the new legislatures.

A chorus of disapproval from India came with publication of the report which showed the committee had tightened up the safeguards contemplated in the white paper's proposals, formulated by the National government, for the next step towards self-rule in the Indian empire.

But this was to be expected. So was the simultaneous declaration on the Labor party that the report was not adequate, that India should be given the means to obtain the position status by her own progress instead of relying on future acts of parliament.

More interesting was the attitude the Conservative party here would take when it deliberates the report at a national convention next month.

A preliminary battle was clearly forehadowed in comments of politicians and newspapers. Violent hostility was expressed in two opposite quarters, by "die-hard" Tories and by radical sympathizers who favor self-rule for India. Between them was a large volume of moderate opinion which took a hopeful view.

Budget May Be Cut

But Manitoba Government Is Not Closing Government House

Winnipeg.—W. J. Tupper, newly-appointed premier for Manitoba, will be sworn in here December 1, it was announced at the legislative buildings. He succeeds Hon. J. D. McGregor, lieutenant-governor since 1929.

Premier John Bracken of Manitoba, referring to rumors Government House might be closed, declared there might be reductions in the government budget for Government House. It was not the government's intention to close it, he said.

Government Buys Building

Old Industrial Building At Winnipeg Acquired From C.N.R.

Ottawa.—The Dominion government has purchased from the Canadian National Railways the old industrial building in Winnipeg adjacent to the railway terminal there, on the corner of Main and Water streets. The purchase price was $175,000. The industrial building will be razed and a seven-story department building will be erected in its place. It will be an office building, one floor of which will be rented to the railway to house its officials occupying the present structure.

QUESTION NO. 2.

 How can I know the Bible is true?

 "The prophet said that a dream is a man's life, and he has been told a dream, and he has been told a dream, and he has been told a dream. What is the chance? What is the chance?
Is not my word as a sign? And like a hammer that breaks the rock in pieces."

 "The word of God is a living power, and sharper than any two edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and as the joints and marrow, and is a discernment of the thoughts and intents of the heart."

 "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, and for instruction. 'Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation for the prophecy came not in our time but by the will of man: but holy men of God spoke as they were moved by the Holy Ghost.'
'Search the scriptures; for they testify of me.'

 "He that is of God heareth God's words: ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God."

 "These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether these things were so.
Jesus answered them, 'Ye do err, not knowing the scriptures. If any man will do God's will, he shall know of the doctrine.'

 "My word is truth, forever standing in heaven. Thou hast magnified thy word above all thy name."

 "That from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus."

 "If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater; for this is the witness of God, which he has testified of his Son. He that believeth not God hath made him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son.
And this is the record, that God hath given unto us eternal life, and this life is in his Son."

 "He that hath received his testimony hath set to his seal that God is true."

 "Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, he shall have everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life."

A delicious lunch was served.

turned from a week's visit in Edmonton with friends.

 Bibby's Cartage has received the contract to haul for the Buffalo kill.
They started work on Thursday.
The kill started on Monday at the slaughtered.

 A pleasant evening was spent on the 21st at Battle Heights School, under auspices of the Fabyan Catholic Church. Considering the weather, there was quite a good attendance. Cards and dancing were the source of entertainment.

 Friendly gatherings are being planned for the members of the Royal Bank staff, who are to be transferred from this point in the near future. On Monday night the young people of the Anglican church gathered in the I.O.O.F. Hall and had as their guest, Miss B. Love, who will go to Lethbridge. A presentation and address was part of the evening's program. On Tuesday evening the young people of town entertained the bank boys. Other similar evenings are planned for the

CORRESPONDENCE

Editor, Wainwright Record:

 Another festive season draws near.
The greatest event of the year. May I plead for a better understanding closer cooperation with all sides.
That no matter what our name or sign, we may exhibit the true spirit of goodwill to all. Some communities join together in having one Christmas Concert. I think this is more in accordance with the spirit of Christmas than each having their own. May our churches, our fraternal organization, lead the way to making this Christmas what the creator intended it should be, an expression of love to all.

Yours R. T. Wright

Interesting New Book

 The Robber Baron, by Josephson at the Library. Who were the Robber Barons? They were Jay Cook, E. Pierpont Morgan, Rockefeller, Vanderbilt, Carnegie, John Hill and others. These men signed power in America after the Civil War. For private gain they "built up the country," developed railroads, unspoiled natural resources, etc. etc.
They were giants in their creative energy and force. Josephson has shown how they acquired power, how they used it, how they a notified it, what progress they made what causes troubles they made possible. This is a composite biography of the big American capitalists.
